Minor Variance Information Sheet

What is a Minor Variance?

The R.M. of Corman Park sets out specific development standards within the Zoning Bylaw to ensure development happens in a safe, efficient and orderly manner.

A minor variance is a request for relaxation of the minimum required setback distance of a building from the site line (property line) or the minimum required distance of a building to any other building on the site. A minor variance is reviewed on a case by case basis based on the specific situation of land or a building, which are not generally common in the same Zoning District. The minor variance may not exceed a 10% variation from the requirements of the Zoning Bylaw.

What are the criteria for considering a Minor Variance?

Once the Planning Department receives the application, the Development Officer may approve, approve with conditions or refuse the minor variance subject to:

- the development conforms to the intent and objectives of the Official Community Plan and Zoning Bylaw;
- the development is consistent with provincial land use policies and Statements of Provincial Interest; and
- the relaxation does not injuriously affect neighbouring properties.

Please note: a minor variance cannot be granted on land that has been rezoned by contract.

What happens if the Minor Variance is approved?

Where a minor variance is approved, with or without conditions, the Development Officer will notify the applicant and the assessed owners of the property having a common boundary with the applicant's property. The notice will include a summary of the application, reasons for the decision and an effective date of the decision.

The assessed owners of the property having a common boundary with the applicant's property will have 20 days after receipt of the notice to lodge a written objection. If a written objection is received to the municipality, the approval is deemed to be revoked.

If there is no objection to the minor variance from the assessed owners of the property having a common boundary with the applicant's property, the minor variance takes effect:

- 23 days from the date a notice was sent by registered mail; or
- 20 days from the date a notice was delivered by personal service.

What happens if the Minor Variance is approved with terms and conditions?

Where a minor variance is approved with terms and conditions, the Development Officer will notify the applicant in writing. If the applicant wishes to appeal the terms and conditions of approval, the appeal must be submitted to the North Corman Development Appeals Board within 30 days after the date of decision.

What happens if the Minor Variance is refused or a decision is revoked?

Where a minor variance is refused or if a decision is revoked, the Development Officer must notify the applicant in writing, providing reasons for the refusal or why the decision was revoked. If the applicant wishes to appeal the refusal or revocation, the appeal must be submitted to the North Corman Development Appeals Board within 30 days after the date of decision.
